Condominium Living at Kingsberry Hill

The best way to enhance the sense of community of Kingsberry Hill is to have an understanding about common issues and an understanding of community expectations.

What is a Condominium?

The term condominium may be defined as a system of separate ownership of individual units in multi-unit projects.

What are the Common Areas and Facilities?

The owner of a condominium unit owns, not only the unit described in his deed, but also an undivided interest in the "common areas and facilities" of the condominium which may be defined generally as those facilities which serve all owners of the units in the condominium. These facilities include land, roadways, walkways, exterior foundations, decks, exterior walls, exterior roofs, piping and mechanical systems serving the entire building. The common areas for this complex are specifically defined in the Master Deed.

The common areas are shared by all unit owners and need to be respected by all.

What are Common Area Expenses?

There are certain expenses for the overall operation of the condominium for such things as electricity, water, and maintenance of the grounds, maintenance of the building, personnel and insurance. These are called common expenses and are shared by all of the unit owners according to each owner's respective percentage interest in the condominium. This percentage interest, known as the beneficial interest, has been predetermined based on the value assigned to each unit. Such common expenses are paid on a regular basis (usually monthly) directly to the Association in the Condominium fee. These fees are determined by the Board of Trustees and shared with unit owners at the annual meeting. From time to time, the Board of Trustees may need to assess each homeowner additional fees to cover unexpected expenses not covered in the budget. These fees may include excess snow removal expenses beyond the budgeted amount or other unexpected repairs/replacements needed to maintain the infrastructure within the community.

Summary

In some respects, ownership of a condominium unit is no different from ownership of a single family home. Instead of owning a house and land, the condominium unit owner owns his or her unit from the studs in, together with the percentage interest in the common areas. Like the owner of a house, the condominium owner may mortgage his or her unit independently of any neighbor.

A condominium becomes an effective organization upon the recording with the Registry of Deeds of the B-Laws, Master Deed, and any plans required by the provisions of Chapter 183A of the General Laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

There is a 10% rental limit within the community which requires any owner to get approval from the association before entering into any rental agreement. See page 16 for details on Third party rentals.

Moving Into a Unit

The process of moving in or out of a unit needs to be addressed carefully, as there are many details to coordinate.

Your move- in or out- date must be given to management at least one week in advance of your move. Any damage that is caused to the building or grounds as a result of moving in or out will be repaired at the owner's expense and will be due and payable within 30 days. Trucks or motor vehicles are prohibited from mowed grass areas or in the rear of any of the buildings.

Keys

1. Unit Door Keys – these should be delivered to you at the time of closing by the seller
2. Mailbox Key – Should also be delivered to you by the previous owner
3. Association is not responsible for any keys pertaining to the unit or mailbox

Mail

You should notify the U.S. Post Office of your new address. It is advised to notify them two weeks in advance to allow for new delivery. Your address should clearly indicate the unit number.

Services

You should notify all utility services to switch over the meters to your name as of the day following closing.

Telephone

If you will have a land line telephone service, the provider should be notified 10 days in advance of your move-in date to have your service initiated.

General

It is necessary to provide the Association Management Company with the following information: names of permanent residents, unit phone numbers, and work (day) phone number, emergency contacts, auto information (description & plate #) and Email address (if available).

The Unit Owner/Renter Registration Form (Attachment E) is to be completed and returned to the Management Company. The Association Management Company should also be notified whenever this information changes.

Maintenance Calls

In order for Southeastern Property Management to respond to a concern, every maintenance call must be placed through the office. Please do not request condominium services directly from the Association's vendors or Trustees. Regular business must be taken up during the standard workweek.

Emergencies

IF YOU HAVE AN EMERGENCY THAT REQUIRES IMMEDIATE ATTENTION:

Contact Southeastern Property Management Inc. 508-286-0095

During normal daytime hours, the Management Company will return all non – emergency calls within 48 hours

There is an emergency number listed when you call the main number. This number is only to be used for true emergency situations and will be responded to promptly. When calling in an emergency, please be sure to leave your name, telephone number, unit number and a brief description of the situation.

Fire

It is very important that you and your family practice fire/evacuation procedures in the event of an emergency. Take note of the fire pull station nearest to your unit.

All units are equipped with smoke detectors, which should be tested once a year. If you hear the alarm sound, NEVER assume that it is a false alarm. Always implement your plan of evacuation.

If a fire breaks out, escape quickly and then call the fire department. If the fire is in your unit, close the door behind you as you leave. This will keep the fire from spreading quickly.

The Norton Fire Department can provide you with many free pamphlets. The Trustees, the Management Company and the fire department strongly encourage you to make use of this information. If a member of your family is handicapped, or has some other condition that may make a quick evacuation difficult, it is important to notify the fire department and the Management Company.

Electricity

Within each unit there are electrical panels that contain a number of circuit breakers. Occasionally these circuit breakers may trip cutting off power to a particular room or appliance or the whole unit. They usually can be reset at the box within the unit. If they keep tripping, the circuit breaker may be faulty or the circuit may be overloaded. The maintenance and repair of the electrical system within the unit is the responsibility of the unit owner.

Heat, Furnaces and Hot Water

Each unit has an individual heating and hot water system. If these units are not properly maintained, they may fail prematurely. Please keep in mind that each unit owner is responsible for the maintenance and repair of the heating and air conditioning equipment and the hot water system. If there is a need to replace the heating system, the new furnace must be vented the same as the original unit. No additional openings can be placed in the front or the unit. Air conditioning units must also be replaced with units that are similar in appearance to the unit being replaced. The management company must be notified of these replacements or improvements.

Water Leaks

Leaks from plumbing fixtures (i.e., faucets, toilets, washing machines, water heaters, etc.) inside the unit can create serious damage to other units or common areas. If you discover a leak and you need to turn off the water source to your unit, there is a valve in the basement between furnace and hot water tank that will shut off the water coming to your unit. Unit owners are advised to know the location of the shut off valve. Although these repairs within the unit are the owner's responsibility, you should also notify the Management Company immediately, if you suspect the leak has also affected another unit.

Leaks from rain or snow storms for the most part can only be fixed when the rain has stopped and the affected area has been able to dry. If during a storm you are getting a serious leak notify the Management Company. If it is not a serious leak, then notify management following the storm.

Wind Storms

It is advisable to properly secure or totally remove all patio furniture and fixtures that may be susceptible to being blown about.'

Gas Leaks

As all units have both gas heating and hot water systems, please notify the gas company immediately whenever you note any gas odor. Please also notify the management company following the gas company notification.

Snow Removal Procedure

- For the clean-up of the general parking areas, the vendor will honk to alert homeowners to move their autos around 8:30 in the morning, but the timing will vary based on the timing of the storm. We ask that homeowners not move their cars into the roadway until directed to do so by the plow drivers. There will be a systematic clean up if all homeowners move their vehicles when asked to do so by the plow drivers. Before moving your vehicle to the street or to the spaces at the end of the buildings, please ascertain the vendor's location on the property. If the streets get congested with vehicles, the plows will not be able to maneuver within the property. If you move your vehicle to someone's parking space or driveway to allow the vendor to clean out your area, move it back to your own space immediately after the vendor has cleaned out your area. As a courtesy to owners in end units, please notify them before parking in their driveway and cutting off their path in or out. - Failure to move vehicles when the snow removal begins will result in your vehicle being plowed in and the unit owner receiving a fine of $25 per occurrence.

- The vendor is responsible for sanding walkways, driveways and roadways dependent on predicted and actual weather conditions. This procedure is for safety and liability, so please do not direct the vendor to do anything differently.
- If you have any questions about the condition of the roadway, your driveway or the plowing in general, please contact the property management office and do not approach the plow drivers directly. Third Parties (Rentals)

Only 10% of the total units within the community may be rented at any time. This means that at no time will there be more than 4 units rented within the complex. The management company must be notified of any intent to rent a unit to insure that this number is not exceeded.

Unit owners must provide renters with these rules and regulations and any notices that are provided to unit owners.

In the event that any Unit Owner rents his or her unit to a third party, all of the Owner's rights to use the common areas and facilities shall vest automatically in such third party exclusively. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, no Unit Owner who rents his or her unit to a third party may either use the Condominium's common amenities or use the common parking areas at any time during which the unit is rented and/or occupied.

General Information

Decks and Patios

Decks and patio areas are considered common areas, with the owner possessing exclusive right of use. Each owner is responsible for the condition of his or her area. During the winter season, deck furniture must be removed or secured. Your deck, patio area and porches are not storage areas for tires, bicycles, tools or any other items. While the unit owner is responsible to keep the decks and patios free of storage, snow and ice buildup, the Board of Trustees is responsible for the maintenance, repair and replacement of the decks. Owners are responsible for reporting any need for repair.

Deliveries

When making arrangements for a delivery, make certain the delivery company has the appropriate insurance. Both the delivery company and the resident are responsible for any damage to the common areas which occurs during a delivery or pick-up. Vehicles are prohibited from driving on the grassy areas or in the rear of buildings

Extermination

If you suspect that you have a problem with rodents, bees or other pests, call the Management Company to schedule an appointment with the exterminator to assess the problem. Contact the Management Office for details.

Fire Prevention System

Each Unit has an individual electrically powered smoke detection system that alarms within the unit only. This system is not wired to the fire department. Open your porch or exterior door or windows and fan the detector to disperse any smoke. In the event of an emergency, you must call the Town of Norton Fire Department when the system is activated. Call the fire department and leave the building at once. The fire department should arrive within a short period of time. Please notify neighbors if time and safety permit.

Heating and Cooling System

Each unit has an individual gas furnace with remote electric or gas powered air compressor for air conditioning. The duct system circulates air for both heating and cooling and is controlled by a thermostat. The electricity to each unit is individually metered. Consult your owner's guide for detailed operating instructions.

To properly maintain the heating unit, it is suggested that the filter be replaced every month. The filter may be located at the base or side of the unit and slides out. If needed, replacement filters can be purchased at a local hardware store.

If there is a need to replace the heating system, the new furnace must be vented the same as the original unit. No additional openings can be placed in the front or the unit. Air conditioning units must also be replaced with units that are similar in appearance to the unit being replaced. The management company must be notified of these replacements or improvements.

If you vacation during the winter remember not to turn your furnace off. Just turn the thermostat setting to no less than 55 degrees, otherwise the pipes can freeze and burst.

Laundry Facilities

Each unit is equipped with hook-ups for a washer and dryer.

Mail & Deliveries

The mailbox is located next to the dumpster area. There is a letter drop box from which mail is taken each day by the postman.

Maintenance

Any maintenance concerns or questions are to be directed to the Management Company. As in a private home, you are responsible for the repair and maintenance of the interior, doors, and garage doors of your unit.

Common area maintenance concerns or service requests should be reported to the Management office.

Schedule of Action

Communication and reasonable discussion should resolve all violations of the Rules and Regulations. However, failure to successfully resolve the complaint would require the Trustees to take action against the Unit Owner who refuses to comply with the requirements of the Association.

Schedule of Action will be as follows:

1st Step

Verbal communication with the violator to bring the situation to a resolution. For parking violations this may occur through a phone conversation or a note on the vehicle.

2nd Step

With the exception of parking violations, written warning with a time frame for resolution and proposed fine to the violator. In order for the Board or Property Manager to take any action, all complaints from unit owners must be put in writing. For parking violations, phone or verbal notification will serve as the final notification

3rd Step

Assessment of fine.

4th and Final Step

Collection of fine or action required by the Master Deed and or By-Laws of the Association.

Fine Schedule

Unless otherwise stated in an individual rule, fines will be assessed as a last resort, and only after violators have been given adequate opportunity to defend themselves and bring the situation to a resolution. The fine schedule is as follows:

Any violation involving common areas will require the violator to be held responsible for the full cost of restoring the common area to its original state or repairing the damage as a result of the infraction.

The fine for each violation $25.00 a day per occurrence or until the violation is resolved

Condominium Fees/Common Area Charges (CAC)

The cost to operate the condominium is paid monthly by every unit owner according to his/her percentage of beneficial interest in the property. This interest is specified in the Master Deed. Kingsberry Hill, is a nonprofit organization that is dependent upon fee income to pay its bills. Each month these fees (CAC) are collected and bills are paid. Payments must be made promptly on or before the first day of every month.

All payments should be made out to, "Kingsberry Hill Condominium Trust", and mailed to:

Kingsberry Hill Condominium Trust
c/o Southeastern Property Management Inc.
P. O. Box BG
Norton, Ma. 02766

To assure proper credit, mark your unit number on the check. DO NOT make payment out to Southeastern Property Management.

Late Fee Policy

In accord with the powers vested in the Trustees under our Rules and Regulations, the following procedures will apply in any cases where a unit owner does not make his/her payment of maintenance fees and assessments in a timely manner:

All common area payments are due on the 1st of each month for that month.

If payment is not received by the 15th day of the month, a late charge of $25.00 will be added to the account of the delinquent unit owner. Non payment of the late charges shall also be subject to a $15.00 per month penalty.

If payment has not been received by the 60th day from the original due date, legal action may also be initiated. In addition to the amount owed in fees and late charges, the Association will seek to recover all legal costs associated with the action taken against the delinquent owner.

Kingsberry Hill Association

Trustees

The By-Laws provide that elected Trustees sometimes referred to, as "The Board" will regulate the management of the property.

The Board consists of up to five, non-paid unit owners who volunteer to donate their time to running the property. These positions are filled by vote from the unit owners at the annual meeting.

There are three (3) one-year terms, one (1) two-year term, and one (1) three-year term. At the first meeting following an election, the Board elects its officers: President, Treasurer, and Clerk.

Current names and phone numbers of all Trustees will be shared at the Annual meeting or by contacting the Management Company.

The Management Company is the first point of contact for unit owners with any questions or concerns. If you believe you have not reached resolution through the management company, then a trustee may be contacted.

Purpose

The Trustees represent the interest of the unit owners and have been chosen to maintain the economic and physical condition of the condominium.

Power

According to the By-Laws, the Trustees are given very specific powers in dealing with the Association property. The overall role of the Trustees is to protect, maintain and enhance the property through sound business decisions made after they have had the chance to review information presented to them from the managing agent or other consultants hired by them. They also direct the managing agent in its responsibilities at the property.

Annual Meeting

The annual unit owners' meeting is held by the end of May each year. Meetings may be scheduled earlier within one year of the month of the last annual meeting. At this meeting vacant positions on the Board are filled and the operating budget for the year is reviewed. This meeting is also an occasion at which all unit owners are assembled to discuss the past, present and future operations of the condominium, review the progress of specific projects and provide a general update of the activities of the condominium. The annual meeting is not a forum for discussing issues related to individual property owner issues. Such issues should be directed to the Management Company at the time of the occurrence.

Condominium Documents

As previously noted, Kingsberry Hill has been created and is governed by the recording with the Bristol Northern County Registry of Deeds. A brief description of these and related documents is listed below.

Master Deed

The Master Deed is the basic legal document submitting the property to condominium status and providing for the administration of the condominium, Chapter 183A, of the Massachusetts General Laws. These laws designate that the required contents of this document, which include complete descriptions of the land and buildings are to be dedicated to the condominium use, and of common elements, and the proportionate interest of each unit therein. These include floor plans, a statement of the purpose for which the building and units are intended, the method of amending the Master Deed, and the name of the organization which will manage and regulate the condominium. A committee known as the Trustees who are unit owners and elected by unit owners governs the Association.

Unit Deed

The Unit Deed is the instrument by which a unit must contain all the normal elements of a deed. In addition, Chapter 183A requires that it include a reference to the condominium, a description of the land or the address of the property, the designation of the unit in the Master Deed, a statement for the uses for which it is intended and any restriction on its use and the interest of the unit in the common elements of the condominium. Note that the initial deed of each unit must also have attached a copy of the floor plans recorded with the Master Deed showing the designation of the unit being conveyed and adjacent units and depicting the layout, location, dimensions, approximate area, main entrance to the unit as well as the immediate common area to which it has access.

By-Laws

In contrast to the Master Deed, which is limited to a description of the basic structure of the condominium, the Association's By-Laws set forth the day-to-day operating procedures under which the condominium will be run. The By-Laws include:

1. The method of providing for the necessary maintenance, repair and replacement of the common elements and payments thereof.
2. The manner of collecting from the unit owners their shares of the common expense.
3. The procedure for hiring all personnel, including whether or not a managing agent should or may be engaged.
4. The method of adopting and amending the administrative rules and regulations governing the details of the operation and use of the common elements.
5. Such restrictions on and requirements respecting the use and maintenance of the units and the use of the common elements not set forth in the Master Deed.
6. The specific requirements for obtaining funds for the repairs, maintenance, and upkeep of the common areas which are to be financed by all unit owners through a regular or special assessment paid to the Association in accordance with each unit's percentage interest. It should be noted that each owner's share of these expenses constitutes a lien upon the owner's interest in common elements. This provides the Association with the necessary means to assure collection of the common funds.

In addition to the various provisions required by law, the By-Laws includes many other provisions deemed necessary for the management and regulation of the Association. These include items such as procedures to be followed in the case of reconstruction after a fire or casualty or in the case of condemnation, as well as items based on the needs and characteristics of the condominium.

Condominium Insurance

Master Policy

Master Policy: Kingsberry Hill Condominium Association (the Association) as stated in Article V, Section VIII, of the Declaration of Trust, maintains Master Policies of casualty and physical damage covering both common areas, facilities, and units.

Certificate of Coverage

A certificate of the coverage maintained on behalf of the Association can be secured by contacting the current Insurance Agent for the condominium. Agent information is as follows:

Name: John J. Prudente Agency
Address: 1207 Commercial Street
Weymouth, MA 02189
Telephone: (781) 337-3381
(781) 340-1299 (fax)
Website: www.pruins.com for the agent
www.icerts.com/unitowner for insurance certificates

When you call, you should have the following information available in order to expedite your request:

1. Unit Owner's Name or New Buyer's Name
2. Number of Unit
3. Mortgagee name and complete mailing address
4. Loan or reference number

Home Owner Policies

Each unit owner is advised to carry a HO-6 Policy. It is the sole responsibility of each individual unit owner to insure his/her own personal effects/contents, personal liability, unit improvements and coverage for the Association's deductible (usually $1000 - $2,500 for property damage).

All unit Owners should purchase a HO-6 Policy. The coverage must be coordinated between the individual HO-6 and Master Policy. Your agent will need to know that our Master Policy provides blanket coverage and is written on a single entity basis. It includes installed fixtures, interior walls, fixed appliances and additions, including those used exclusively by an individual unit owner. Installed items include wall-to-wall carpeting, domestic appliances, wall coverings, cabinets and plumbing fixtures.

We strongly recommend the basic HO-6 Policy be endorsed to add HO-32, which extends perils insured against from a "named peril" basis to an "all risk" coverage, although some limitations still remain. This coverage will generally provide the owner with coverage for the Association's deductible. Discuss particulars with your agent. Unit owners should also consider a HO-35 – Loss Assessment Coverage.

Note: These comments are intended as a guide for unit owners to assist them in developing a proper personal insurance program. We recommend to all unit owners to review their own personal insurance requirements with their insurance agent.

Investor Units

Liability is the responsibility of the unit owners. Often liability may be added to the policy covering the investor's primary residence. Investors should also secure coverage for rent loss in the event that a unit becomes uninhabitable. The Master Policy and the Association will not honor any claims for the loss of the rents. It is also recommended that unit occupants purchase HO-4 Tenant Homeowners unit policy.

Identifying Master Policy Claims

When a unit owner reports damage, a note will be made to the file. The damage will be inspected to assess the approximate cost of the damage. The unit owner should notify their Homeowners Insurance Agent. The deductible for items covered by the Master Policy shall be apportioned, as provided for in the Master Deed and By-Laws. The unit owner is responsible for all personal property, improvements, rent loss, etc., not covered by the Master Policy. If the damage to the areas covered by the Master Policy is less than the deductible, then the loss shall be governed by the aforesaid Master Deed and By-Laws.

Processing a Master Policy Claim

The following steps should be followed when damage occurs in a unit and you are filing a claim against the Master Policy:

- a) Report the damage within 72 hours to the management agent. Failure to report claims promptly may result in the claim being denied by the insurance carrier. The Association will not honor claims that are denied by the carrier because of failure to report in a prompt fashion. Unit owners should also notify their individual insurance carrier at the same time.
- b) The management agent will notify the association's insurance agent of the loss. Should immediate repairs need to be made in order to insure the safety of the unit occupants, the management agent will secure approval for those repairs from the Insurance Carrier.
- c) The management carrier will instruct the unit owner to secure bids to repair the damage. These bids are to be submitted to the management agent with a cover sheet itemizing the costs and totaling same. This sheet must contain the unit owner's signature.
- d) During the bidding and damage assessment process, the unit owner must work closely both with the management agent and the Master Policy insurance adjuster in order that the scope of work is agreed upon by all parties prior to commencement of said restoration work. This includes but is not limited to making the unit available for inspection, securing additional bids should the insurance adjuster request it and promptly responding to requests made by the insurance adjuster and/or the management agent. The Board will not be responsible for the timeliness of Insurance claims being paid. If a claim payment is delayed, no interest, penalties or other claims will be honored.
- e) In the event there is a dispute, the final approval of the costs rests with the Insurance Company. The management agent will work with the unit owner and insurance company during this period to finalize the scope of work.
- f) Once all parties agree what the scope and amount of the claim will be, the unit owner will be given permission to commence work. Unit owners may ask that the Association request payment of the claim in order that the unit owner has fund to initiate restoration work. If the insurance carrier forwards this amount to the Association, then the Association may pass the benefit of this early payment to the unit owner. The Association will never release more than 50% of the total claim prior to the signing of a release by the unit owner.

- g) If damage affects the structure or marketability of the unit, it is the right of the Board to inspect the area in order to ensure the proper repairs have been made.
- h) Final payment will be made when:
 - The insurance adjuster has had the opportunity to inspect all repair work.
 - The Trust has received the final payment from the Insurance Carrier.
 - The unit owner has signed a release.
